

From the Pastor's Desk:

I want to begin this newsletter by thanking all of you who have taken the time to write this ministry and encourage us with your good words of faith and your most helpful support. I am especially thankful for the many of you who have written expressing your appreciation for the newsletters and how they have been a tremendous blessing to you. In this world of darkness that feeds upon lies and corruption, it is so refreshing to hear and receive TRUTH that is Word of God directed. I take my Christian duties and responsibilities seriously for I am, as you also are "creatures" of the Most High God, Jesus Christ, and therefore, we should all try to be mindful of our Christian duty to our Great Benevolent Benefactor, Jesus Christ, our Redeemer.

We, who understand our Covenant calling, should cherish God's Divine calling and Purposes for it is the FAITH OF OUR ISRAELITE FOREFATHERS who stood upon the Promises of God. I have little patience for the crowd pleasers. We need Christians who will be faithful and courageous men and women like Moses, Ruth, Deborah, Martha, Mary, Daniel, David, John, Paul, and Peter. The day is rapidly approaching in which we will see the fulfillment of Joel 2:28-29:

28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.

Yes, please absorb these words of God's great purposes, and let them fill your spirit with this blessing that is to come. While we fight the good fight of our faith and we run to attain the crown of Victory through Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior, it is good to know that "flesh effort" will one day cease. Therefore, I pray not for more flesh effort, but for more Holy Spirit driven Christians doing the Fathers business.

THE TURNING OF GLENN BECK

Yep, I have a problem with the Jewish support and direction of Glenn Beck. Surely you who watch him on TV or listen to his radio program have noticed that he has taken very a visible and apparent turn towards Jewry. He has converted to Judaism, perhaps not religiously, but he is bringing Judaism into his Christian worldview and allowing this view to consume and dominate his perspective of world events. He has converted to and become a neo-Zionist.

Personally, I pray for the man, as I am somewhat sympathetic to his predicament in the media world he is surrounded with, and the fact that there are powerful Zionist political groups and Lobbyists that bring tremendous pressures to bear upon all who may oppose them. But Glenn Beck presents himself to us as a man of honesty and integrity. Good, and rightly so he should try to be, and therefore he should have enough integrity to also question those financial, political, and religious forces that are of Zionism as strongly as he investigates (and well he should) of those of communist design and purpose. There is no doubt that he would soon discover an undeniable relation between communism and world Jewry.

Glenn Beck is not dumb. He has read many history books and studied the history of communism and the money changers. He could not be ignorant of the Jewish involvement in the Bolshevik revolution and their unmistakable connection with the forming of Karl (Jewish) Marx(ist) communism. On several programs of the Glenn Beck show, he has quoted from the Koran to paint as negative of a picture of the Islamic faith as possible. Never once has Mr. Beck quoted from the Jewish Babylonian Talmud to expose what the Jews believe, stand for, or represent, and how this fits in with the New World Order agenda of world Jewry. If he did so, Christians would start waking up to the real conspiracy against Jesus Christ, and the Christian faith. However, if God has blinded your understanding, you cannot see. For some reason, this is true for Glenn Beck.

Glenn Beck has aligned himself with the Jews favorite puppeteer John Hagee and his bully pulpit. The Jewish financial aid and under the table benefits are flowing. The Jews are opening the political doors for Mr. Beck as fast as they can, and AIPAC has surrounded him with favors and connections that he has never known before.

Now, Glenn Beck is leaving FOX News and going his own way on a newly purchased Glenn Beck program that will cost you a monthly fee to join.

Don't support Glenn Beck !!! Don't send him a dime. He is clearly on the side of those whom the Word of God tells us not to have fellowship with such as 2 John 7-11:

7 For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist.

8 Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed:

11 For he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds.

A GERMAN'S VISION IN 1800

by Karl Von Eckartshausen, (1752-1803)

Miracle of History, by David Davidson, page 54

"The new earth begins already; a new age is at hand; the Spirit of Jesus Christ utters: So be it—and it already is. It is there; we say that it is even now in sight; but no—it must rest unseen until the veil falls.

Then shall revolution no longer threaten the earth, for He who is desired of the nations is on the very threshold—He who is Lord is near.

Though myriads of men are butchered in war by the spirit of darkness, he is still doomed to flight, for the victory is predestined to love.

God has recourse to strange weapons when His people forget Him utterly; sin must punish that sin which is the source of all evils.

This notwithstanding, let but a single tear fall from the evildoer, and the scene of anguish changes, because His Father is near.

There is One who rules all, One who is leading all according to the ends of wisdom. Many are fighting for Him who do not know it themselves.

Many can conceive of nothing beyond the range of the senses; when the curtain is lifted, what astonishment is in store for the world!

All that is false must disperse before the majesty of faith."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Friends, I hope you like the above vision; it spoke to my heart truths about the times of man and great things of the Kingdom of God that are to come. "ALL THAT IS FALSE MUST DISPERSE BEFORE THE MAJESTY OF FAITH (JESUS CHRIST)."

A STUDY IN HEBREWS

by Pastor Barley (Part one)

The book of Hebrews contains a great deal of spiritual meat. It is time that His people begin to hear and understand the spiritual meat of Scripture. This overview of the book of Hebrews is not intended to be an in-depth study of each verse, but rather it is to give us a deeper perspective of those verses that have a special message.

To correctly discern the deep revelatory substance of the book of Hebrews, it must be determined to whom it was written. The title of the book answers the question, and at the time it was written, those who read it understood who and where the Hebrews were. Today, however, the knowledge of who and where the Hebrews are is generally unknown. As a consequence, most biblical scholars assign the message to the church, because they assume that at least ten of the twelve tribes of Israel are no longer in existence.

Judeo-Christians in general look to old Jerusalem and assume that modern-day Jews are God's chosen people, making them the Hebrews of the Old Testament. This theory annuls the promise and the covenant that God Almighty made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob that He would make them a multitude of people, so numerous and so vast that they would be as the stars of the heavens and the sands of the sea. To ignore our racial heritage violates the spirit and purpose of the New Covenant presented in Hebrews 8:7-10. God Almighty said that He was going to make a new covenant with the House of Israel and with the House of Judah, He would put His "laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts."

God is true to His Word, and if the promises made with the 12 tribes of Israel were to be fulfilled, then one must look somewhere other than in the land of Palestine for their fulfillment. There is archaeological and historical proof that the "lost tribes of Israel" went through the Dariel Pass, through the Caucasus Mountains (where they derived the name "Caucasian"), on into Southern Russia, over into the Mediterranean area, into Europe, Britain, and the Scandinavian countries thousands of years ago. There is very little record of the Hebrews going east; they went northward and westward, and eventually migrated into what became England, Europe, the United States of America and Canada.

Today, the United States of America, Canada, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Germany, the Scandinavian countries, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Italy, France, Belgium, and other European countries comprise "lost" Israel. Additionally, there are many Anglo-Saxon kindred in Russia as well. Many of the founders of this nation were aware of their racial heritage. Nathaniel Morton in 1669 wrote of America's beginnings. He called our forefathers "the seed of Abraham His servant, and the children of Jacob His chosen." He further identified them as a vine, or branch, that ran "over the wall," from the birthright line of Joseph.

God Almighty has been very faithful to His people Israel, His word, and His covenants. He is a covenant-keeping God. The message in the book of Hebrews is to a race of people so multitudinous as to fulfill those covenants. This race of people also fulfills the many other covenants and promises that God Almighty made with those early Hebrews.

Where were some of the Hebrew people located when the Author of Hebrews wrote his message? One answer is provided in the following verse: : ( All Scripture quoted herein is taken from the King James Version of the Bible unless otherwise noted.)

Hebrews 13:24

24 Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.

There is controversy about who wrote the book of Hebrews. Various scholars believe that the Apostle Paul was the author while others believe it was Apollos. One Bible commentary offers that Timothy wrote it while in Italy. There is no question about who authored Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, James, Jude, Peter, or the Pauline Epistles. These men established their authorship at the beginning of their books. Could it not be argued that the Author of Hebrews established His authorship in the same manner? Pastor Frank Dowsett, a learned Bible scholar and author of a very worthy study on the book of Hebrews, presents a very compelling argument that the author of Hebrews is not a man, but God Almighty himself. I realize this is true of all books but for some reason God did not want the scribe of Hebrews known. But this we do know right at the very beginning verse of Hebrews:

Hebrews 1:1-3

1 God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets....

Who is introduced as the Communicator in the book of Hebrews? Yahweh God. What is His first statement? He declares that at sundry times and in diverse manners He spoke to the fathers by means of human agencies. Scripture proclaims that God inspired the entire Bible. In other words, God Almighty wrote the Bible using prophets and others to relate His plan and His purpose. However, the book of Hebrews is unequalled in its magnificent message. Through it, God Almighty was speaking directly to His people. The focus is an in-depth revelation of Jesus Christ and His relationship to His people.

2 Peter 3:18

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and for ever.

This same instruction is repeatedly given in the book of Hebrews, and as the depth of its riches unfolds, those who have eyes to see and ears to hear will be greatly rewarded. The genuine Hebrews today need this knowledge, because they have a divine role in the coming age that is made manifest by the divine Author of the book. The significance of the types and shadows of the Old Covenant are made clear in its message. This significance is given emphasis in the deeper revelation of the work of Jesus Christ upon the cross and its meaning to His people and the people of the world. Christianity as well as the world is suffering today, because it really does not have a full vision and understanding of Jesus the Christ and His work upon the cross.

The book of Hebrews gives Jesus Christ preeminence.

Hebrews 1:1-2

1 God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets;

2 Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds....

In other words, in these latter days, Yahweh God is speaking directly to His people in the expressed form of the Son, Jesus Christ. How many are really listening? There have been forces active for centuries that have attempted to lead the followers of Jesus away from the true Christ, the true Messiah, by presenting a corrupt and false gospel. That is why Christians must have ears that hear and eyes that see. God Almighty repeatedly told Israel through the prophets that they are blind and dull of hearing. Little has changed. There has always been only a small remnant of people who have had the ears and the eyes to see. Israel today needs to open her ears of understanding and not be lead away from our great Communicator, Jesus Christ...

In His preparation of those Israelites whom He is grooming to become Sons of God, He has told us that His word is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

Hebrews 4:12

12 For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

The Word of God pierces the thoughts of man and begins the purification process. Most earnest Christians have experienced that piercing process, and while it is painful, it burns out impurities. Through the Comforter whom Christ left with us when He ascended to the heavens, it is a process of correcting and refining that prepares those whom He has chosen for greater responsibilities. As Sons in training, the Comforter ministers to us by teaching and judging us. When correction is needed, He applies the fire of His law. What Christian is there that has not felt the two-edged sword piercing asunder his soul and spirit?

The Sons of God will assume the role of priest to teach the nations of the only God and His salvation. If the "type" of the Old Covenant is fulfilled in the New Covenant as the Apostle Paul teaches, then we find fulfillment today in our role as priests and Jesus Christ is our High Priest.

Exodus 19:6

6 And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel.

Revelation 1:5-6

5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, 6 And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

Under the Old Covenant, the priests offered up the sacrifices to Yahweh. They were responsible for the upkeep of the temple, seeing to it that it was always ready for service. They were directed by Yahweh to teach Israel the Laws of God and acted as judges in appeal cases. The High Priest made atonement for the Levitical priests, as well as the whole national house of Israel. Jesus Christ is now our High Priest and our atonement.

Hebrews 4:14

14 Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

The word "profession" in this context does not mean an occupation. It means an acknowledgement – our professing Jesus Christ.

The Sons of God are His priests, and in the purifying process, they themselves are offered up as burnt offerings to God the Father. The priests today have the same responsibilities as those under the Old Covenant, because they are the anti-type or the substance of the "shadow of things to come."

- The priests offer themselves as burnt offerings.
- The priests are now His temple wherein He dwells, and as such they assume the duties of keeping the temple ready for service through Christian discipline.
- The priests teach the Law and His Word. The Law reflects the nature of God Almighty, and it is the duty of the priests to bring all people to a knowledge and understanding of Him. It is through the Divine given light of the Law and the leading of the Holy Spirit that we learn righteousness.

- The priests judge when called upon. When rendering judgment, they employ the sword and fire of the Spirit and His Word.
- The priests recognize that His law is merciful and they exhibit the quality of mercy and compassion that the High Priest exhibited.

The Apostle Paul understood that the saints would judge even the angels.

1 Corinthians 6:1-3

6:1 Dare any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints? 2 Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? 3 Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

Who are these “angels?” Well, “angels” is the Greek word “aggelos” and it means “a messenger, an angel, by implication, a pastor.” A messenger of God is a pastor, and he should be a man of good character who teaches the truth from God’s Word and does not compromise with evil doers. But, as we all know, many pastors are false shepherds who follow political expediency, and do not challenge the plunderers and corrupters of the nation, and are in many cases co-conspirators of the plot against Christianity. These false shepherds/angels will be judged by the “saints” of God according to these Bible passages. However, only those who have been purged by the fire of Divine righteousness can know the heart of God and judge righteously.

In order to become Sons, we need to submit ourselves as burnt offerings to His fire. Jesus Christ is our example. He submitted Himself as the sacrificial lamb for the world. Through the Cross, Jesus went beyond Israel. He also purchased the world. This is the essence of divinely inspired communication and the renewing which comes from the Holy Spirit. The Sons of God need to submit themselves to His divine, inspired communication. That is a stumbling block to many people because they have not really submitted to the work that He is doing within them. The stumbling block is pride, and submitting to correction removes pride. Search your heart. Are you submitting to the Word of God, the fire, and the sword of His Word? If you are not submitting to the work that He is doing, then you have a heart problem that stems from being out of touch spiritually with the Word of God.

How long has it been since you have felt the burning process of Holy Spirit in your life? Have you ever felt the presence of Holy Spirit in your life? Do not allow yourselves to become dead or immune to its prodding. Great men who were true heroes were sensitive to the prodding of Holy Spirit. All flesh experiences temptations, but the purifying process of Holy Spirit strengthens us. Submit to it. Initially it is burdensome because it puts us through judgments that correct our carnal nature, but the end result will produce good fruit that is full of blessed spiritual understanding.

Idaho to be First Chinese State

Project 60 takes advantage of a federal program that grants permanent residency to foreign nationals, in this case, Chinese. This program comes with special tax exemptions to the foreign firms moving here. American companies do not get the tax exemptions. So much for the Constitution and equal protection. Idaho is struggling financially and it is widely known that America is broke, so why tax breaks for the Chinese? China wants to limit its exposure to America’s debt. China needs to maintain its trade deficits, so it does not collapse like a house of cards. In order to accomplish this, China must unload currency and excess dollars. Buying Idaho is a good way to accomplish this. But, do not worry. China is looking at buying Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania as well. China will not allow its currency to become stronger, so it must eliminate some of America’s IOUS’s. What better way to do this than buy America?

Top Idaho officials have been traveling to China and entertaining the Chinese here, in order to help facilitate this. Idaho is a resource rich state and the Chinese know it, as does Obama, who keeps snatching Idaho land. Otter (governor of Idaho), Obama and the attack on business in America paves the way for China to own us. A Chinese firm is building a fertilizer plant in American Falls Idaho. Ironic. China has bought fifty square miles of land south of Boise, thirty thousand acres of Idaho gone to foreign nationals. Governor Otter says this will help reinvigorate our American industrial base. Just how this will do it, since the plants will be staffed with foreign nationals is a question that remains unanswered.

There are local and national security concerns to go with this immoral and illegal act. Governor Otter and his minions have agreed to give China ‘hassle free’ landing rights at Idaho’s main airport. There are two problems with this, one of which is the airport in question is used by the Idaho Air National Guard, and the other is Mountain Home Air Force Base is just miles away and the home of some of the Air Forces best kept flight secrets. The Bible says the borrower is the lenders slave. It appears that officials in Idaho and the Obama Administration have realized that and the term “Buy Idaho”, has become more than just a brand for Idaho goods. China took it literally.

Taxpayer Dollars Still Bailing Out Banks

Published: Monday, 6 Jun 2011 | 11:22 AM ET
By: John Carney Senior Editor, CNBC.com

None of America's largest banks raise money on the free market. Every single one of them is propped up by an implicit taxpayer guarantee that is very similar to the backstops provided to Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.

It is a huge subsidy by taxpayers to the banks, enabling them to be far more profitable than they would be otherwise.

Tim Carney at the Washington Examiner (disclosure: we're brothers) explains:

Last week, the ratings agency announced a review of whether these bailout assumptions still apply after passage of the Dodd-Frank financial regulation bill. The Moody's review will be the truest test yet of President Obama's promise that the legislation—derided by Republicans as a bailout bill—can end the "Too Big To Fail" dynamic that has encouraged financial risk taking and given these banks an unfair advantage.

The implicit government guarantee these banks enjoy is a subsidy. The "five notches of uplift from government support assumptions" that Moody's gives to Bank of America translate into real profits for Bank of America. Without a presumed bailout, Bank of America's senior debt would be rated Baa3, just barely on the right side of the "Investment Grade"/"Speculative Grade" boundary. The presumed "government support" raises the bank's debt rating to A2, which is "very low credit risk."

Even Wimpy from "Popeye" would be a "very low credit risk" if you could count on Ben Bernanke and Tim Geithner to pay for his hamburger.

As a result, all the big banks pay lower interest rates than they would pay in a market environment. Put another way: Anyone lending money to big banks (by buying their bonds, for instance), does so on the assumption that if the bank cannot repay the loan, U.S. taxpayers will. It's hardly shocking that experts think our recently bailed-out and very politically connected banks are still too big to fail, but the Moody's report makes it official.

GOVERNOR RICK PERRY TO AMERICA: PRAY TO JESUS,

by Justin Elliot (June 6, 2011)

Gov. Rick Perry raised some eyebrows recently when he officially declared three "Days of Prayer for Rain in the State of Texas," which has been plagued by drought.

But now Perry, these days a possible Presidential Contender, is taking his advocacy for public prayer a step further -- and in a distinctly non-inclusive direction.

Perry is the man behind a new conservative Christian event called "The Response: A call to prayer for a nation in crisis." It is a day of prayer and fasting to be held at Reliant Stadium in Houston in August. Says Perry in a letter on the front page of the event's website:

"Right now, America is in crisis: we have been besieged by financial debt, terrorism, and a multitude of natural disasters. As a nation, we must come together and call upon Jesus to guide us through unprecedented struggles, and thank Him for the blessings of freedom we so richly enjoy."

Perry adds that "there is hope for America ... and we will find it on our knees."

GOD'S LAW – AN EXPRESSION OF HIS PERSONALITY

by Curtis Clair Ewing

Whenever you hear any person speaking lightly of God's law, rest assured that person has very superficial views of God, for God's law is simply a declaration of His personality. What God is, He simply reflects in His law. It couldn't be otherwise and God remain God. God can never give expression to something contrary to His very nature.

To realize this, just stop and think of the attributes of God and then notice what the Bible says about God's law. For convenience, we may divide God's attributes into what are called His natural and His moral attributes. A natural attribute is that which pertains to a thing by a law of necessity, as essential to its very existence. Take away this attribute and the thing or person would no longer exist, or at least be the same thing or the same person. The attribute is natural whether it is a quality, capacity, element, or susceptibility. It is something that is constitutional.

Over against this we have God's moral attributes. A moral attribute is a disposition or state of the will. It is a permanent choice or preference of the mind. It is that voluntary part of personality which deals with right action.

Now, God's natural attributes are His eternity, omniscience, spirituality, immutability, and perfection. Without these God would not be God. Now it would not be hard to show that God's law is a reflection even of His natural attributes. For instance, Micah 5:2 and Psalm 90:2 tell us that God exists forever. But so does His law according to Psalm 111:7-8 and Matthew 5:18.

Then again God is spiritual (I Corinthians 10:4) and so is His law (Romans 7:14). God is also perfect (Matthew 5:48) and so is His law (Psalm 19:7) and James 1:25). But our purpose in this study is to call attention to God's moral attributes and show how they are reflected in His law.

A list of God's moral attributes would include His benevolence, mercy, truth, wisdom and holiness. Each of these attributes is reflected in God's law. What God is by choice He demands in His law and expects of us. Let us examine each attribute with this in mind.

One, Benevolence or universal love. This is the disposition in God which seeks the universal well-being of all. "God is love" says the Apostle John in I John 4:8, 16. But God also demands love of us, that is, to love God and also our neighbor as ourselves (Leviticus 19:18; Deuteronomy 6:5; Matthew 22:34-40). To love is to fulfill the law (Romans 13:8-10).

Two, Justice. Justice is the disposition in God to punish all sin, to see that each person gets what he deserves, no more or no less. On that basis God demands in His law just what we are able to do and no more. That God is just is taught many places in the Bible, note especially Deuteronomy 32:4 and I John 1:9. That God's law is just is also definitely taught in the Bible in Romans 7:12, also in Micah 6:8, where we read: "He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Three, Mercy. Justice without mercy would make an intolerable world. Mercy is that disposition to grant pardon to those who repent. God's mercy moved Him to make it possible for man to be forgiven by the atonement which He made in the person of Jesus Christ, and by all the initiatives which He takes in winning man back to Himself. In Exodus 34:6-10 we read: "The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands. Forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin." God's law not only tells us, through the Old Testament ritual how mercy may be obtained (Leviticus 5) but also demands that we also exercise mercy to others (Micah 6:8 and Deuteronomy 15:1-11).

Four, Truth. Truth is that which is in harmony with all law and is at variance with none. It is the definite relation which facts, things, and phenomena sustain toward each other. And truth is also God in expression, for John says, "God is truth" (John 3:33, 8:26; 14:6). If God is true, then His law could not help but be an expression of the truth, and so it is (Nehemiah 9:13; Psalm 19:8, 13; 119:142, 151). We are to love the truth and give expression to the truth, and the man who rejects the truth may look forward to becoming filled with his own delusions (Romans 1:18; II Thessalonians 2:10-12).

Five, Wisdom. Wisdom is the benevolent use of knowledge and power. God is all wise and full of wisdom (Proverbs 1:20; James 1:5; 3:17). God's law is an expression of the highest wisdom and the instruction given to nations for their good is: "Keep therefore and do them: for this is your wisdom and...hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people. For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the Lord our God is in all things that we call upon him for? And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day" (Deuteronomy 4:5-8).

Six, Holiness. Holiness is the one thing which distinguishes God from all other beings. Holiness carries with it the idea of being whole or without defect which we call sin. God is holy (Isaiah 6:3; I Peter 1:15-16). God's law is also holy (Romans 7:12). And because He is holy, God asks the same of us (I Peter 1:15-16; Hebrews 12:14).

The nobility of voluntary obedience and submission to the Excellency of divine rule over us is what God wants and will obtain in the over-all plan for this planet. Thus we see that God's law is an expression of what He is by nature and by choice.

JOHN WAYNE, Part 2

PLAYBOY: Do you think young people still feel strongly about you?

WAYNE: Luckily so far, it seems they kind of consider me an older friend, somebody believable and down-to-earth. I've avoided being mean or petty, but I've never avoided being rough or tough. I've only played one cautious part in my life, in Allegheny Uprising. My parts have ranged from that rather dull character to Ralls in Wake of the Red Witch, who was a nice enough fella sober, but bestial when he was drunk, and certainly a rebel. I was also a rebel in Reap the Wild Wind with De Mille. I've played many parts in which I've rebelled against something in society. I was never much of a joiner. Kids do join things, but they also like to consider themselves individuals capable of thinking for themselves. So do I.

PLAYBOY: But isn't your kind of screen rebellion very different from that of today's young people?

WAYNE: Sure. Mine is a personal rebellion against the monotony of life, against the status quo. The rebellion in these kids—especially in the SDSers and those groups—seems to be a kind of dissension by rote.

PLAYBOY: Meaning what?

WAYNE: Just this: The articulate liberal group has caused certain things in our country, and I wonder how long the young people who read Playboy are going to allow these things to go on. George Putnam, the Los Angeles news analyst, put it quite succinctly when he said, "What kind of a nation is it that fails to understand that freedom of speech and assembly are one thing, and anarchy and treason are quite another, that allows known Communists to serve as teachers to pervert the natural loyalties and ideals of our kids, filling them with fear and doubt and hate and downgrading patriotism and all our heroes of the past?"

PLAYBOY: You blame all this on liberals?

WAYNE: Well, the liberals seem to be quite willing to have Communists teach their kids in school. The Communists realized that they couldn't start a workers' revolution in the United States, since the workers were too affluent and too progressive. So the Commies decided on the next-best thing, and that's to start on the schools, start on the kids. And they've managed to do it. They're already in colleges; now they're getting into high schools. I wouldn't mind if they taught my children the basic philosophy of communism, in theory and how it works in actuality. But I don't want somebody like Angela Davis inculcating an enemy doctrine in my kids' minds.

PLAYBOY: Angela Davis claims that those who would revoke her teaching credentials on ideological grounds are actually discriminating against her because she's black. Do you think there's any truth in that?

WAYNE: With a lot of blacks, there's quite a bit of resentment along with their dissent, and possibly rightfully so. But we can't all of a sudden get down on our knees and turn everything over to the leadership of the blacks. I believe in white supremacy until the blacks are educated to a point of responsibility. I don't believe in giving authority and positions of leadership and judgment to irresponsible people.

PLAYBOY: Are you equipped to judge which blacks are irresponsible and which of their leaders inexperienced?

WAYNE: It's not my judgment. The academic community has developed certain tests that determine whether the blacks are sufficiently equipped scholastically. But some blacks have tried to force the issue and enter college when they haven't passed the tests and don't have the requisite background.

PLAYBOY: How do they get that background?

WAYNE: By going to school. I don't know why people insist that blacks have been forbidden their right to go to school. They were allowed in public schools wherever I've been. Even if they don't have the proper credentials for college, there are courses to help them become eligible. But if they aren't academically ready for that step, I don't think they should be allowed in. Otherwise, the academic society is brought down to the lowest common denominator.

PLAYBOY: But isn't it true that we're never likely to rectify the inequities in our educational system until some sort of remedial education is given to disadvantaged minority groups?

WAYNE: What good would it do to register anybody in a class of higher algebra or calculus if they haven't learned to count? There has to be a standard. I don't feel guilty about the fact that five or 10 generations ago these people were slaves. Now, I'm not condoning slavery. It's just a fact of life, like the kid who gets infantile paralysis and has to wear braces so he can't play football with the rest of us. I will say this, though: I think any black who can compete with a white today can get a better break than a white man. I wish they'd tell me where in the world they have it better than right here in America.

PLAYBOY: Can blacks be integrated into the film industry if they are denied training and education?

WAYNE: It's just as hard for a white man to get a card in the Hollywood craft unions.

CLOSING THOUGHTS: Oh, I wish I could have crammed more into this newsletter, but space won't allow it. Hey, I just read something interesting, "Intelligent people have more zinc and copper in their hair." Maybe I should call Doug Evers and have him send a case of zinc and copper to the members of congress? Or, maybe some rabbit pellets instead...ha, ha, One thing I can recommend for all of you, is to get Doug Evers Health seminar DVD'S or CD'S. We will send it to you for any donation you send.
